MAY 5TH:

There are many ways to engage diverse audiences with grassland/rangeland themes. In this webinar, we'll talk about two different ways to engage the general public: film and film events and passing local proclamations and resolutions. This will include detailed "how to" guides and where you can find material.

SPEAKERS

Lauren Svejcar, Society for Range Management, and Theresa Bechetti, University of California, will discuss the diverse opportunities available for engaging with rangeland films, holding your own film events and making your own short videos.

Mark Thorne, University of Hawai'i at Manoa, State Range Extension Specialist, will talk about what proclamations and resolutions are and how you can use them to recognize the IYRP.
