EXPERIENCE MODERN PASTORALISM

In recognition of the United Nations' declaration of 2026 as the International Year of Rangelands and Pastoralists, the Canadian Cattle Association and the U.S. Roundtable for Sustainable Beef are co-convening the North American Grazing Lands Congress. This invitation-only gathering will showcase the ecological, economic, and cultural value of our historic grazing lands. The Congress includes coordinated Canadian and U.S. tours showcasing the families that serve as stewards for these landscapes and their innovative practices that support resilient ecosystems.

LEARN MORE ABOUT HOW:

- Native grasslands and rangelands across North America are at risk, and producers are key to restoring and protecting them.
- Grazing ruminants create a natural, mutually beneficial relationship with rangelands and grasslands.
- Rangelands and grasslands are natural climate solutions, supporting carbon storage, water, and biodiversity.
- North America's livestock producers are modern pastoralists.
